

Right lateral torque which would trigger tremor exerts positive along-strike shear stress on the fault surface of the SW panel

